It is conservatively estimated that Al Orth has chewed three miles of gum this season. He has the best developed face muscles in baseball.

Walter Wade, the Brown guard, is showing well at the Brown workouts. Wade was ineligible last year and he was not given permission to try for a position on the team until recently when he received word from the president's office that he had passed his exams.

Fact that Harvard Joe Peplowski, captain and crack pitcher of the Seton Hall College nine two seasons ago, is considering the offer from Connie Mack and has suspended his intention to resume the study of law at the University of Pennsylvania. Peplowski suffered an injury to his head early this season while playing in the western association and interested Connie in his clever trick work.

Chum Bob's Sporting Talk.
New York, Sept. 30.—Golf is drawing its full share of attention away from football and racing, despite the splendid progress of both of the latter sports offered in various parts of the country. New York has not had so many distinguished players in its midst in several seasons as this year, due largely to the fact that nearby clubs have planned important tournaments. Many golfers and golf enthusiasts who are usually abroad at this time are making up what they miss in a European trip by visiting home tournaments.

MRS. CAMPBELL DEAD

Beloved Hickory Woman Expires After Extended Illness.

Mrs. Florence Stevenson Campbell, wife of Mr. J. M. Campbell, died at her home on Tenth avenue last night at 8:30, after an illness of ten weeks. Mrs. Campbell was born in Duncannon, Pa., August 3, 1863, and was married to John M. Campbell in 1892.

They came to Hickory about three and one half years ago. She was a faithful and active member of the First Methodist church here and was never absent from Sunday school, church service or prayer meeting, when able to attend and often took part in the services. She was a teacher in the Sunday school and an officer in the Woman's Missionary Society at the time she was taken sick. Her's was indeed a lovely Christian character and she will be greatly missed from her accustomed place in the church.

Mrs. Campbell is survived by her husband and five children—Ruth, Foster and Howard of Hickory, Mrs. Henry Hunt and Mrs. Herbert Field of Greensboro, and Charles Emery Campbell of Denver, Col.; also by three brothers—E. M. Stevenson of Baltimore, C. W. Stevenson of Columbia, Pa., and Milton Stevenson of Atlantic City, N. J., and one sister, Mrs. McPheeter of Kissimmee, Fla. Mr. Campbell was away in Maryland, but is expected home this afternoon. Mrs. Field came in on No. 11 and Mrs. McPheeter is expected tomorrow.

The present arrangement is that the funeral will be held at the Methodist church at 8 o'clock and the body will be taken on No. 36 for Duncannon, Pa.

TARS CHEERED NAPOLEON

Even Enemies Made A Hero of The Fallen Emperor.

New Orleans States.

If Emperor William could be taken a prisoner to England it is possible that he would be greeted with curses, hoots and maledictions, and that he would need a bodyguard to protect him. When the vanquished Napoleon reached England, however, just a century ago, the imperial captive had no reason to fear the vengeance of the mob. Instead he was greeted more as a hero than as an enemy.

When the English man-of-war Belerophon arrived at Torbay a most novel and impressive scene greeted the eyes of the Corsican prisoner. On his arrival more than 1,000 boats, including every available craft in the vicinity, floated around the Belerophon, and more than 10,000 pairs of eyes were fixed upon the vessel in the hope of catching a sight of the imperial guest.

The deposed monarch of Europe appeared on deck, the officers and seamen, without orders and moved by a common impulse, uncovered their heads. When Napoleon advanced to the starboard gangway thousands of exclamations were heard, a single note of hatred or anger. Practically all of the spectators uncovered and remained so as long as Napoleon was in sight. For days thereafter these scenes were repeated, and people gathered from all over England to cheer the celebrated personage.

Napoleon was very cheerful in those days, for he believed the popular applause was a good omen for the future and he yielded to the illusory hope that the British government would permit him to remain in England under some strict but not oppressive surveillance. The demonstrations had just the opposite effect, however, for they proved that Napoleon's power over the imaginations of men had as strong an appeal as ever. Official England was alarmed by these popular manifestations of good will and sent Bonaparte into exile on St. Helena rock.

The committee of instruction of the board of education of Pittsburgh has established a department in the public schools in which the students will be trained for citizenship. Sessions will be held at night.

A board of five men, three Federal and two state, are to make a sanitary survey of Dallas county, Iowa. Rural health conditions have increased greatly in that state in ten years, and cities have benefited correspondingly.

"COMMANDER GOLD."

Estimates $350,000 May Be Drawn from English Circulation.

"The importance," writes the financial expert of the London Sunday Times, in discussing the English effort to draw gold from general circulation into the bank reserves, through a hearty response to the treasury's appeal for economy in the use of gold can hardly be exaggerated. The only surprise is that the appeal was not made earlier. Estimates vary, but it is generally accepted that from 50 to 70 millions sterling of gold is at present in circulation in this country, the function of which could be served as readily by the bank and treasury notes, and the gold itself conserved for possible use abroad in payment for imports.

"With a stock of the metal approaching a hundred millions, the bank of England would be in a much better position to regulate the exchange and general economy would result. There is at present no indication of improvement in the American exchange, and the failing special measures, none is likely while our imports continue on their present scale; for a restoration of the balance by means of the ordinary export of goods is impossible under a matter of several years.

"Sales of American securities have been used to considerable effect in the past, and further sales, especially of bonds are probable, but the arrangement of a long-term credit would probably in the end have to be resorted to. The recent additions to the gold holding of the Bank of France through the withdrawal of the metal from circulation and the prospect of a similar result in this country, now that the treasury has given a definite lead, should release many millions of the metal for shipment to the States, where it would pay the way for a credit operation on a scale calculated to relieve the pressure on exchange. A substantial rate of interest, free of English income tax, would have to be paid."

BAN JOHNSON FAVORS STARTING OCTOBER 8

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 30.—When the national baseball commission meets in New York to arrange details of the world's series, President Ban Johnson of the American League will vote in favor of starting the series October 8, instead of October 9, the date favored by the National League. He said he saw no reason why the games should not be started Friday, leaving Sunday an easy jump between Philadelphia and Boston.

COMPLIMENTING MR. HARTE

Charity and Children.

It was a pleasure to us to spend two or three hours with pastor Harte of Hickory last Friday, and the long wait for the western train which, as usual, was nearly two hours late, was thus made pleasant rather than painful. Mr. Harte is about the second best pastor in North Carolina, and his splendid church is moving grandly forward.

Men, If You Like Good Meals Give Your Wife a Hoosier Cabinet Now!

A well equipped kitchen is one of the natural rights of every good housekeeper. This is the greatest opportunity you will ever have to make your kitchen perfectly convenient, at a bargain price.

You are not the sort of man to expect your wife to go along year after year with no better conveniences in the kitchen than your grandmother had. Men, nowadays, don't cut wheat with a cradle as grandfather did; don't write letters with a quill, or work in the shop with out-of-date tools. You have things up-to-date in your work. You bet you do, and you expect right along too. Listen, men! Is it fair to the wife to let her get along with old-fashioned woman-killing household equipment when you can have one of these new Hoosiers delivered tomorrow for only $1.00. Of course not. You mean all right. You would like to have a convenient kitchen.

Just Hand Us a Dollar

We will put one of these five new Hoosiers in your home at a price so low you will think we are cheating ourselves. The Hoosier Company let us make these prices this week to introduce these new models. They are so far below the market standard simply because enormous Hoosier sales
